Jerry Colangelo

Chairman, CEO and Managing General Partner

Throughout his stories career as a sports executive, Jerry Colangelo has succeeded with a unique combination of know-how botho n the basketball court and on the business side of the operation. That savvy and experience is what makes him one of the top executives in professional sports.

Colangelo, who has been the face of the Suns franchise since their inaugural season in 1968, unveiled a plan for the Suns future that included the sale of the team for an NBA record $401 million in April 2004. Banking and real estate executive Robert Sarver, an Arizona native, became the major investor and managing partner of the new ownership group that will purchase the Suns and Mercury over a three-year span. Colangelo will remain as CEO and Chairman until the sale of the team is complete in June 2007, and then will retain the title of chairman for at least another five years beyond 2007.

Colangelo's impact on the sports scene in Phoenix and the game of basketball has been so great he was elected to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in April 2004 and enshrined on Sept. 10, 2004 in Springfield, Mass., the birthplace of basketball. Locally, The Arizona Republic named him the Most Influential Sports Figure in the state of Arizona for the 20th century and the Phoenix Business Journal voted him the top businessperson in the Valley for the last five years. Nationally, Colangelo has been among The Sporting News most powerful people in sports for over the last decade and he was appointed to the newly-created position of Managing Director of the USA Basketball Men's Senior National Team program for the 2005-2008 quadrennium in April 2005.

Since first moving to the Valley of the Sun in 1968 to take over the expansion Phoenix NBA franchise as the youngest general manager in professional sports, Colangelo has molded the Phoenix Suns into on of the most successful organizations-on and off the court-in the NBA. In addition, he brought Major League Baseball to the Valley in 1998 and was chairman of the 2001 World Champion Arizona Diamondbacks. Colangelo also was the key element in facilitating the move of the NHL's Winnipeg Jets to the Valley of the Sun to become the Phoenix Coyotes.

Currently the Chairman of the NBA's Board of Governor, Colangelo has had influence on the growth of the NBA as a member of the league's Finance Committee, Long Range Planning Committee, Expansion Committee and Competition and Rules Committee. Commissioner David Stern turned to Colangelo to chair a special group in the 2000-01 season that evaluated the state of the game and made rules modifications. Colangelo was also the chair of the committee that welcomed Toronto and Vancouver to the NBA and chair of the relocation committee charged with the Charlotte Hornets move to New Orleans. In 2003, he helped bring an NBA franchise back to the city of Charlotte, which was awarded the NBA's 30th franchise, the expansion Bobcats, that began play in 2004-05 season.

"Jerry Colangelo has been involved in every aspect of our business and is universally accepted as the principal basketball expert among our Board of Governors," Stern said.

With the Suns his roles have included general manger, head coach, president and now chairman and chief executive officer. The 37-year tenure with one franchise is the second longest in the NBA, behind only Boston's Red Auerbach, who ahs been an NBA fixture since the league's inception in 1946. Colangelo spent two seasons with the Chicago Bulls working as marketing director, scout and assistant to the president before moving to the Valley to help start the expansion Suns.

Phoenix owns the fourth-best all-time winning percentage with a 1,644-1,358 (.548) marking entering 2005-06, trailing only the Lakers (.616, 2,761-1,722), Boston (.596, 2,737-1,856) and San Antonio (.585, 1,372-974). Colangelo has collected an unprecedented four NBA Executive of the Year awards (1993, '89, '81, '76). During that period the Suns enjoyed seven consecutive 50-plus win seasons from 1988 to 1995, including a franchise-best 62 wins in 1992-93 and a trip to the NBA Finals.

On two occasion Colangelo stepped in to coach the Suns, including the 1969-70 season when he guided the club to a 24-20 mark down the stretch and to its first playoff appearance. He also took over in 1972-73 and compiled a 35-40 mark. Overal Colangelo is 59-60 as an NBA coach.

The state of the franchise was in question in 1987 but Colangelo stepped up and coordinated a group of investors that purchased the club for $44.5 million on October 14, 1987. That transaction was the first of many that helped Colangelo not only stabilize the basketball organization but also transform downtown Phoenix into an active and thriving district.

Colangelo quickly moved on a new arena for the Suns and in April 1989 the city of Phoenix approved the concpet of a new, state-of-the-art arena in downtown that would house the team. The 18,422-seat US Airways Center (formerly America West Arena) opened in June 1992 and became the first venue in the NBA to also house a full-size practice facility, an amenity now common in the league. The arena is a public-private partnership with the City of Phoenix and has played host to a wide variety of concerts, family shows and sporting events, including the 1995 NBA All-Star Game and the 2000 WNBA All-Star Game.

US Airways Center has recently undergone a $70 million renovation that included the addition of an entertainment paseo, the Casino Arizona Pavilion, and new LED, scoreboard and sound system.

Colangelo added to his NBA involvement with a position on the founding committee for the WNBA, helping advance professional women's basketball in the United States. The Phoenix Mercury were one of the WNBA's inaugural teams in 1997. The Mercury set a league attendance record in their first season, advanced to the 1998 WNBA Finals and qualified for the playoffs three times.

When a group targeted Major League Baseball as a possibility for the Valley, Colangelo was asked to become the lead player in securing a team for Phoenix. That bid was successful in 1995 and shortly thereafter Chase Field (formerly Bank One Ballpark) broke ground in downtown Phoenix in a public-private partnership with Maricopa County.

As with the NBA, Colangelo was involved with the governing of baseball, serving on the Legislative Committee, Equal Opportunity Committee and on the board of directors of the MLB Advanced Media, the technology arm of the league.

The Arizona Diamondbacks began play in 1998 and captured the 2001 World Series in a historic seven-game series against the three-time defending champion New York Yankees. Going from expansion team to World Champion in just four years was a record for Major League Baseball. Arizona won the National League West in just its second season to become the fastest expansion team in baseball history to qualify for the postseason, just as the Suns did in their second season in 1969-70.

Just down the street from the sports facilities, the Dodge Theater opened in April 2002 and hosts a variety of events from concerts to Broadway plays, including boxing, family shows and corporate events. This $35 million downtown venue has the versatility to expand its capacity to as large as 5,000 or scale down to an intimate 3,000 and is another project spearheaded by Colangelo.

Colangelo's commitment to the Valley transcends sports and he is well-known as one of the city's most active community leaders. In recognition of his efforts in the community, Phoenix mayor Phil Gordon recently proclaimed March 26, 2004, Jerry Colangelo Day in the city of Phoenix. The Valley of the Sun United Way also bestowed its highest honor, the Spirit of Caring award, to Colangelo on June 30, 2005, for his passion for improving lives in the community.

He is currently chairman of the board of the Council of Leadership Education and Collaboration for a New Century, National Italian American Sports Hall of Fame and Leadership Foundations of America, trustee of the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, national board member of National Italian American Foundation and Young Life International, vice president of the Phoenix Downtown Partnership, chairman and CEO of Phoenix Community Alliance and was a leader in the establishment of Employers Against Domestic Violence.

Colangelo has served on the board of directors of the Phoenix Art Museum, Great Phoenix Economic Council, Athletes in Action and Phoenix Suns Charities. He is a lifetime member of the Phoenix Thunderbirds, an organization dedicated to the promotion of Phoenix through sports. In addition, he is past chairman of Arizona State University's Dean's Council of 100 and the Honor Board for Junior Achievement of Central Arizona, served as president of Valley Big Brothers, and was chairman of the board of the Christian Businessmen's Club. AS campaign chair for United Way in 1994, Colangelo raised the standard for community fundraising when he secured pledges for $25 million.

The author of a book title How You Play the Game, Colangelo gives insight into the world of the business of sports and his own life. Proceeds of the book sales went to Young Life of Arizona, Phoenix Suns Charities and Arizona Diamondbacks Charities.

Colangelo prepped at Bloom Township High in Chicago Heights, Ill., where he was an All-State basketball honoree as a senior. A left-hander, Colangelo was the top pitcher on the baseball team that also featured former Yankee hurler Jim Bouton. Upon graduation he had 66 scholarship offers for college basketball and seven for professional baseball contracts.

He enrolled at the University of Kansas, but transferred after his prospective teammate, Wilt Chamberlain, left the Jayhawks for a pro contract. Colangelo transferred to the University of Illinois where he earned All-Big Ten honors, captained the Illini as a senior and was later inducted into the Illinois Basketball Hall of Fame. He also played two years of baseball at Illinois.

Born November 20, 1939, Colangelo grew up in the "Hungry Hill" neighborhood of Chicago Heights. His ties to "The Heights" and Bloom Township are evident in the Jerry Colangelo Gymnasium, dedicated in his honor November 10, 1996, and Colangelo Way, a street named after him. Currently under construction in Chicago is the Colangelo Center that will house the Italian-American Athletic Hall of Fame.

Colangelo and his wife, Joan, whom he met on a blind date while at the University of Illinois, have four children: Kathy Holcombe, Kristen Brubaker, Bryan and Mandie, and six granddaughters and four grandsons, all of Phoenix.

Robert G. Sarver

Managing Partner

Success has followed Arizona native Robert G. Sarver in every stage of his career and his golden touch extended to his first season with the Phoenix Suns.

The self-made entrepreneur embarked on another challenge as the new majority owner of the Phoenix Suns in 2004-05 and the Suns enjoyed unparalleled success as the club tied a franchise record with an NBA-best 62 wins and posted the third-greatest turnaround in league history.

The banking and real estate executive spearheaded an investment group that purchased the Suns, the oldest professional sports franchise in the Valley, as well as the Mercury, for an NBA record $401 million on June 30, 2004.

Sarver, 43, who became the youngest person ever to found a national bank at the age of 23, grew up a Suns fan and attended games as a youth at Veterans Memorial Coliseum after receiving tickets as birthday gifts from Donald Diamond, one of the original owners (Richard Bloch and Donald Pitt).

Sarver's friendly and down-to-earth demeanor has helped him close numerous deals in the banking and real estate industry. He is currently Chairman and CEO of Western Alliance Bancorporation, one of the fastest growing bank holding companies in the country. He is also the founder of Southwest Value Partners (SVP); a real estate investment company that has acquired four million square feet of commercial office space, 3,500 apartments, 700 hotel rooms, shopping centers, commercial mortgages and over 2,000 acres of land in the last 15 years.

A 1979 graduate of Sabino High School in Tucson, Sarver spent the first 35 years of his life in Arizona before moving to San Diego and has demonstrated a commitment to community and philanthropic contributions. Sarver and his wife recently donated donated $1 million to help build the Phoenix Family Museum, which will be completed in May 2007. He is also on the Board of Trustees of the Japanese American National Museum.

Sarver sits on the Board of Trustees of the Sarver Heart Center at the University of Arizona, which he helped build, in memory of his late father, Jack, who was among the first in an experimental group to undergo bypass surgery. The center now houses over 40 physicians and researchers dedicated to fighting heart disease.

Introduced to the banking industry at 16, he worked part time at the end of his school day as a mortgage loan agent and internal auditory at American Savings for his late father, a well-known banker and hotel owner. A 1982 graduate of the University of Arizona, Sarver earned his bachelor's degree in business administration, and became a certified public accountant in 1983.

After founding the National Bank of Arizona in 1984, Sarver served as president until its sale to the Zions Bancorporation in 1994. Prior to the sale, National Bank of Arizona had become the largest independent bank in the state.

In 1995, Sarver led a group of investors in acquiring Grossmont Bank, San Diego's largest community bank. He was the Chairman and CEO of the holding company before its sale to the Zions Bancorporation in 1998.

Sarver led Zions' acquisition of Sumitomo Bank of California and merged the company with Grossmont, renaming it California Bank and Trust, and became the Chairman and CEO in 1998. In 2002, he sold California Bank and Trust back to Zions.

He currently serves as director of SkyWest Airlines and is director of Meritage Corporation, of which he is also a major shareholder. The Phoenix-based Meritage is one of the largest homebuilders in the country spanning six states (Arizona, California, Colorado, Florida, Nevada, Texas).

A lifelong sports fan, Sarver's quest to purchase an NBA team began with a conversation with University of Arizona basketball coach Lute Olson, a friend of Sarver's since 1980. Olson referred Sarver to Steve Kerr, a former player at Arizona and a 15-year NBA veteran, to assit him in buying an NBA franchise.

Sarver has a 9 handicap in golf and plays tennis and volleyball in his spare time. During his first date with his eventual wife, Penny Sanders, he invited her to watch the NCAA Basketball Tournament at his house.

He and his wife, a Kansas City, MO. native, have three boys: Max (7), Jake (6) and Zach (4).

Rick Welts

President and Chief Operating Officer
Phoenix Suns

As president and chief operating officer, Rick Welts supervises all business operations of the Phoenix Suns and oversees the club's interests in Phoenix Arena Development, managing company of US Airways Center (formerly America West Arena), owning entity of the Phoenix Mercury (WNBA) and Phoenix Roadrunners (East Coast Hockey League). He enters his fourth season with the organization.

Welts served successful stints previously in professional basketball with the NBA league office and the Seattle SuperSonics. His association with the NBA office spanned from 1982-99 until he departed as the league's executive vice president, chief marketing officer and president of NBA Properties. Welts helped guide the revitalization of the league and its image through strong marketing initiated by the NBA and he is credited with the creation of the NBA All-Star Weekend concept in 1984, now a league highlight and a standard in both the National Hockey League and Major League Baseball. He was also responsible for the 1992 Olympics "Dream Team" marketing program as the agent for USA Basketball. In 1998, Brandweek magazine named Welts "Marketer of the Year" for his role in creating and launching the WNBA. It was an honor he shared with WNBA President Val Ackerman.

During his tenure at the NBA office Welts supervised league departments including corporate sponsorship and media sales, consumer products, media relations, community relations, team services, special events, creative services, and retail including the NBA Store and the "NBA City" restaurant. He was also responsible for the NBA's international business activities, from placing preseason games in foreign countries to opening the league's first international office in Australia to supervising six regional offices and 75 international employees in Asia, Europe, Australia, Mexico and Canada.

Recruited in 1982 by David Stern, then the NBA's executive vice president for business and legal affairs, Welts joined the NBA as director of national promotions for NBA Properties (NBAP). He established the corporate sponsorship department for the league and in 1983 was named vice president of marketing, NBAP. When Stern became NBA commissioner in February 1984, he promoted Welts to vice president, marketing and communications. Four years later he was promoted again to president of NBA Properties, responsible for virtually all the league's off-court revenue businesses and marketing activities. He added the title of NBA executive vice president & chief marketing officer in 1996.

Welts entered the world of the NBA in 1969 as a ball boy for the Seattle SuperSonics. He remained with the Sonics for 10 years in several different capacities, including director of public relations during Seattle's back-to-back trips to the NBA Finals and the club's lone NBA Championship in 1979.

Following his stint with the Sonics he moved in 1979 to Bob Walsh & Associates, one of the first sports marketing firms in the United States. As vice president, he was involved in creating the first sports subscription cable service (Sonics SuperChannel) as well as representing athletes in the NBA, MLB and NFL.

Welts left the NBA in June 1999 to become president of Fox Sports Enterprises, a new entity that managed Fox interests in facilities and sports teams including the Los Angeles Dodgers, Dodger Stadium, STAPLES Center, the Los Angeles Kings, Madison Square Garden, the New York Knicks and New York Rangers.

In June 2001 along with two partners, Casey Wasserman and Gary Stevenson, Welts became a partner in a sports consulting firm, ONSPORT. Prior to that start-up venture he served as president for one year of "First In Line," a joint venture between USA Network's TicketMaster & SFX.

A native of Seattle, Welts attended the University of Washington.

Jay L. Parry

President and Chief Operating Officer
Phoenix Mercury

As President and Chief Operating Officer, Jay Parry is responsible for overseeing the business operations of the Mercury, including corporate partnerships, brand building, marketing, community outreach and ticket sales. She begins her 3rd season with the Mercury.

Prior to joining the Mercury, Parry most recently served as Executive Vice President and Marketing Executive of Bank of America's (B of A) ten-state Central Region. Based in Dallas, Texas, she was responsible for marketing activities conducted in the bank's four major divisions (Consumer, Premier, Small Business and Commercial), covering in excess of $25 billion in deposits and 725 branches.

Prior to that, Parry was based in Phoenix for eight years, initially as Senior Vice President and Marketing Director for Arizona, responsible for launching various customer acquisition and retention, and community visibility programs. Subsequently, she was promoted to Executive Vice President and Marketing Director of the bank's four-state Southwest Region (Arizona, Texas, Nevada and New Mexico), covering $15 billion in bank deposits and 450 branches. In these positions, she focused on strategic planning, brand building and management, and optimizing the customer experience.

Not a stranger to the sports scene, Parry worked on the flip side, as a sponsor while with Bank of America. During her tenure, she assisted the organization in creating sponsorship packages with the Phoenix Suns, Phoenix Mercury and various other professional sports franchises in the Central and Western U.S.

She started her nearly 20-year career in San Francisco at Young & Rubicam advertising before moving to Bank of America. Parry held numerous positions of increasing responsibility at the bank, handling national and regional marketing and business management functions.

During her tenure in Phoenix she has served on the Boards of the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, Downtown Phoenix Partnership-Marketing and the Phoenix Pride Commission. She was appointed to the Super Bowl XXX MVP Host Committee and also served on the 1998 City of Phoenix International Women's Day Executive Committee. While in Dallas, Parry served on the Board of Directors for the Dallas Red Cross and the Texas Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA). She was also a member of the leadership team of the Dallas Women's Mentoring Program.

Additionally, community and trade association activities have included Make-A-Wish Foundation, American Cancer Society, Bank Marketing Association, University of Colorado Alumnae, and Helen Woodward Animal Center.

A native of Del Mar, California, Parry earned her Bachelor's Degree in Finance from the University of Colorado in Boulder.

Seth Sulka

General Manager

As the WNBA celebrates its 10th Anniversary season, so does General Manager Seth Sulka. Sulka has worked with the franchise since its inception in 1996. Sulka continues to be a leader in the growth and development of the women's professional game.

Sulka's influence is seen both in the league and national women's basketball circles, as well as the local Phoenix market. Sulka serves on the WNBA Competition Committee that was instrumental in making several new rule changes for the 2006 season, including the four-quarter system and the implementation of a 24-second shot clock. He is a member of the USA Basketball Senior National Team Selection Committee that is responsible for putting together the USA team that will compete in both the upcoming World Championships in Brazil and the 2008 Olympics in China. Sulka also served on the previous USA Basketball selection committee that chose the members of the Gold Medal-winning U.S. team at the 2004 Olympics in Athens, Greece, and the 2002 Gold Medal-winning U.S. team at the World Championships in China.

In his current role of General Manager, Sulka is in charge of all basketball operations, including player procurement, scheduling, and management of the league's salary cap. Previously as vice president of operations, Sulka directed the day-to-day operations of the Mercury, taking an active role in marketing, ticketing, advertising and promotions.

Sulka holds a unique spot in WNBA history, having conducted the first trade in league history, acquiring Mikkiko Hagiwara from Sacramento in July 1997. Sulka has been the comerstone of the franchise's success from the inception, and helped to land the Second Annual WNBA All-Star Game in Phoenix in the summer of 2000. Success for the Mercury on and off the court was immediate under Sulka's leadership, as the Mercury led the WNBA in attendance in the league's first three seasons of existence. On the court, the Phoenix franchise made the playoffs in three of its first four years, including an appearance in the 1998 WNBA Finals.

Sulka's role with the Mercury is not only as day-to-day operator of a franchise, but also as a promoter of women's basketball in Arizona. Sulka can often be found at various high schools and colleges promoting women's basketball as both activity and entertainment. His prominent role in the development of women's basketball has earned Sulka numerous accolades, including being named the 2004 Individual of the Year by the Phoenix Women's Sports Association.

In addition to his tireless efforts to promote the game, Sulka is a highly sought-after speaker to women's and sports groups across the Valley. His sincerity and honesty in public speaking have earned him praise from a variety of organizations.

Sulka also lent his basketball knowledge to Arizona State University Women's Basketball radio broadcasts the past two years (2004-06), serving as color analyst for the Sun Devils, who have posted back-to-back appearances in the NCAA Tournament, including a 2005 trip to the Sweet Sixteen.

Sulka's history with the Phoenix Suns is a classic tale of working up the ladder. His first involvement with the franchise was as a ballboy at 10 years of age, working for then business manager Bob Machen. In high school, he began serving as a game-night stats runner for the Media Relations department which led to becoming a front office assistant in 1988. He eventually was elevated to Media Relations Assistant in 1990, and in 1991, was named the first Media Relations Director for Phoenix Arena Sports, the division of the Suns that own and operates the Mercury and Arena Football League's Arizona Rattlers. In that capacity, Sulka was responsible for promoting and publicizing the expansion AFL franchise, helping it become one of the model franchise in the league.

Sulka used his well-established contacts with local media and his knowledge of the Phoenix sports market to help establish the Rattlers' credibility long before they took the field. His work in developing the image of the franchise was a key factor in the Rattlers' success, as the AFL franchise played before sellout crowds in every game of its first four seasons of existence.

Sulka played a key role in the Rattlers' business operations model and was named Vice President of Operations for the Rattlers and Mercury. In 1996, the Rattlers earned the AFL Commissioner's Award, given annually to the league's best-run franchise. During Sulka's tenure with the Rattlers, the team won two Arena Bowl World Championships (1994, 1997).

The same credibility Sulka brought to the Rattlers also helped PAS establish other sports entities, such as the Phoenix Smash of Team Tennis, the Continental Indoor Soccer League Arizona Sandsharks, the NHL Desert Series, the NIKE Desert Classic, as well as exhibition tennis and boxing matches at the former America West Arena. While with the Smash, Sulka was responsible for coordinating media requests for tennis legend Jimmy Connors, who played for the Smash in 1994. In each instance, Sulka's involvement brought additional media attention, and ultimately added to each event's success.

Sulka helped oversee Media Relations efforts for the Suns both during their 1992-93 NBA Finals season, and for the 1995 NBA All-Star Game at America West Arena. Sulka also served as a Business Operations Assistant and Director of Game Operations for the Suns, adding to his knowledge of the sports industry and its related functions.

Sulka's media experience also includes time as a sportswriter, having served in that capacity for the student newspaper at Arizona State University, The State Press. He was the beat writer for ASU's nationally renowned baseball program during the 1990 season. His work so impressed legendary coach Dr. Jim Brock that Brock paid for Sulka to travel with the team to Los Angeles for a series against USC that season.

Outside of his day-to-day responsibilities, Sulka maintains the community relations standards of the Suns and Mercury through his involvement in the Junior Mercury program and his role on the board of the Grand Canyon State Games, and is also involved with the Upward Foundation, PWSA, and the Valley Youth Theatre.

Sulka earned his degree in Journalism/Public Relations from Arizona State University and graduated magna cum laude. During his free time, Sulka enjoys reading classic literature and mountain biking. He and his wife Carla are currently devising how to play zone defense against their two sets of twins: ten-year-olds Emily and Madeline, and four-year-olds Audrey and Miles.

Paul Westhead

Head Coach

Paul Westhead was named head coach of the WNBA's Phoenix Mercury on Tuesday, October 11, 2005.. Though Westhead will enter his first season with the Phoenix Mercury and the WNBA, his experience and knowledge of the game of basketball are widely respected. Westhead, coined as the "Guru of Go", brings an up-tempo, fast-break style to the Mercury, and with it raises expectations for a team who will be expected to reflect their new leader's successes.

The fifth head coach in Mercury history, Westhead comes to the Mercury organization as a veteran of more than 30 years of coaching at the professional and college levels. Prior to his new endeavor he served as an assistant coach for the NBA's Orlando Magic for two seasons (2003-2005). He also served as head coach of the Los Angeles Lakers from 1979-82. Early in the 1979-80 season, Westhead was elevated from assistant to head coach, and with a team led by center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and rookie guard Earvin "Magic" Johnson, guided the Lakers to a 4-2 series win over Philadelphia in the 1980 NBA Finals. He has the third highest winning percentage among all-time Lakers coaches (112-50, .691).

"It is a tremendous opportunity for me to coach in the WNBA and be a part of the Phoenix organization," said Westhead. "I am confident that I can help move the Mercury forward and get into the mix of the playoffs and beyond. I love the game of basketball and have dedicated the majority of my life to it. I want to share what I know about the game with the players here and together help make the Mercury successful."

Known for his teams' fast-breaking, high-scoring offenses, Westhead has also been the head coach for the following NBA teams: Chicago (1982-83) and Denver (1990-92), compiling a 184-224 (.451) record. He has also been the head coach in the ABA (2000-01) and in the Japanese Pro League (2001-03).

Westhead is in high demand as a clinician as well. He is sought after all over the world for his fast-breaking, high-scoring offensive techniques. He has spent time helping with USA Basketball programs and was a guest clinician for the 2005 USA women's youth development festival teams this summer in Colorado Springs, CO.

Westhead also had tremendous success on the NCAA level. He has guided collegiate programs at LaSalle, Loyola Marymount and George Mason, compiling a record of 285-223 (.561) in 18 seasons. His most memorable stint was 1985-90, when he led Loyola Marymount to a 105-48 record in five seasons, including three consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances and a berth in the Elite Eight in 1990. Since 1980, Westhead is one of two coaches to have appeared in the NCAA Tournament and won an NBA Championship, the other being New York Knicks Head Coach Larry Brown.

During the past two summers (2004-05), Westhead assisted the NBA in one of their key initiatives, Basketball without Borders program in Treviso, Italy. This program serves as a basketball instructional camp in Europe for young people designed to promote friendship, healthy living and education through sports.

A native of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Westhead graduated from St. Joseph's (PA) in 1961. He and his wife, Cassie, have four children: Monica, Patrice, Paul Jr. and Julie, and ten grandchildren.

Corey Gaines

Assistant Coach

Corey Gaines joins the Mercury coaching staff in 2006, bringing with him a hands-on knowledge of the up-tempo style of new head coach Paul Westhead.

Gaines, who played collegiately at Loyola Marymount University under Westhead, also played professionally for him with the NBA's Denver Nuggets and the Long Beach Jam of the ABA. Gaines served as an assistant coach for Westhead with the Jam and eventually became the head coach in 2005.

Originally drafted by the Seattle SuperSonics, Gaines spent time with the Nuggets, New Jersey Nets, Philadelphia 76ers and New York Knicks.

Julie Brase-Hairgrove

Assistant Coach

Julie Hairgrove enters her second season with the Phoenix Mercury after spending the previous two seasons as an assistant coach at Loyola Marymount University.

Prior to becoming an assistant at Loyola Marymount, Hairgrove played point guard at the University of Arizona. In four seasons, Hairgrove was a four-year starter and led her team to the NCAA tournament each year. She led the Wildcats as a team captain for three seasons.

Besides playing basketball, Hairgrove worked as an assistant coach at Lute Olson's basketball camps and served on the Student-Athlete Advisory Board. She completed her bachelor's degree in social and behavioral sciences in communication and minored in business.

Hairgrove is the granddaughter of NCAA Hall of Famer and University of Arizona coach Lute Olson. She and her husband Mike are the proud new parents of Madison, born February 28, 2006.

Tamara Poole

Head Athletic Trainer

A veteran of athletic training and sports medicine in women's professional sports, Tamara Poole joins the Mercury in 2006 as Head Athletic Trainer. Just the second head trainer in Mercury history, Poole acts as a medical liaison with the team's medical and organizational staff focusing on injury prevention and management. She also assists the team with travel administration.

Prior to joining the Mercury, Poole served as Head Athletic Trainer of the WNBA's Connecticut Sun, Seattle Storm and served two seasons with the Charlotte Sting. Poole's experience also includes stints in the CBA, ABL and Italian Womens Professional League.

A 1995 graduate of California State Dominquez Hills in Carson, CA, Poole has a degree in Physical Education with an emphasis in athletic training and a minor in biology.

2005 SEASON IN REVIEW

Phoenix Mercury

1997 2006

2005 Season Team Notes

The story of the 2005 Phoenix Mercury was one of peaks and valleys that left the team headed in the right direction for 2006, hungry for the postseason play that barely escaped its grasp for the second straight year.

Shorthanded to begin the season, the Mercury opened the 2005 campaign with a 3-10 record. Phoenix played the first several weeks of the season without what would become three-fifths of their starting line-up: PENNY TAYLOR, KAMILA VODICHKOVA and MARIA STEPANOVA, who would all join the team at various points during the season. Stepanova, the final piece of the puzzle, returned to the club for the first time since the 2001 season, and helped to trigger one of the largest in-season turnarounds in WNBA history.

The 3-10 Mercury went 11-4 once Maria joined the squad, improbably climbing back into the hunt in the West. At one point from June 15 to August 25, Phoenix won eight straight home contests with the West. However, for the second straight season, Phoenix lost four of the team's pivotal final six games and was beaten out of the final Western Conference playoff spot.

In the process, though, Phoenix played an entertaining brand of basketball, especially at America West Arena. The Mercury scored 70+ points in 14 of the team's final 20 games after doing it just three times in the first 14. The Mercury were 11-6 when reaching the 70-point plateau, including 10-3 at home. Phoenix was also 15-4 when holding the opponent under 70 (1-14 when failing to do so).

It was a season of honors for Mercury guard and league icon DIANA TAURASI. Taurasi became just the second player in Mercury history to reach 1,000 career points in just her second season in the league, joining JENNIFER GILLOM. Taurasi made her first trip to the All-Star game, becoming the first Mercury player to be voted-in as a starter since Michele Timms in 1999. Hosted by the Connecticut Sun, Taurasi was no doubt a crowd favorite, returning to the state of her collegiate glory. In addition, the 6-foot guard was named the WNBA's Player of the Week for the first time in her career for the week of August 1, 2005, after leading the team to a 2-0 record against conference foes in the playoff hunt, and nearly recording a triple-double on August 5th against Houston. Taurasi finished the season fourth in the league in scoring (16.0), fifth in assists (4.5) and scored 20 or more points seven different times, including a career-high 31 point effort in the season finale in Seattle.

It was a season of firsts for Phoenix against the rival Los Angeles Sparks. The Mercury won the season series (2-1) for the first time in franchise history, and won at Staples Center for the first ever. Phoenix enters the 2006 season having won three of the last four meetings against Los Angeles after losing the previous 18.

The Mercury hopes to capitalize on this, other momentum and renewed confidence, and return to the playoffs in their tenth-anniversary season.

HISTORY

1997 2006

Michele Timms #7

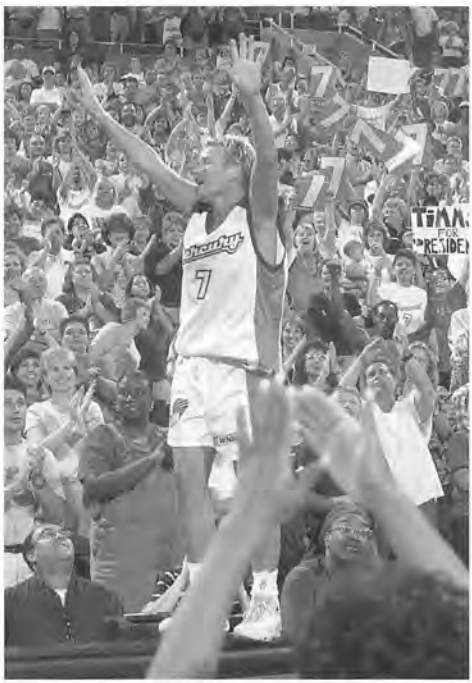
Originally assigned to the Phoenix Mercury when the WNBA began in 1997, Michele Timms retired from professional basketball on August 14, 2001. Going out in style, Timms ended her playing career by sinking a 25-foot jumper with 7.5 seconds left to cap a 56-38 victory over the Houston Comets in the final game of the 2001 season.

"Timmsy" hung up her sneakers after 17 years of professional basketball, the last five coming as a member of the Mercury. The Aussie sensation made her mark on the WNBA and women's basketball with her gutsy play, all-out hustle and electric personality. She guided the Mercury to the 1997 Western Conference Title and 1998 WNBA Finals. She was named a WNBA All-Star during the 1999 season and received the Community Relations Hometown Hero Award for her work off the court in July 2001.

Over her five-year WNBA career, Timms averaged 7.5 points and 4.8 rebounds per game. She retired as the Mercury leader in career assists (551), assists per game (4.8), assists in a single-season (158), career steals (188) and steals in a single-season (71).

Timms' professional career began in 1984 with the Bullen Boomers of the WNBL in her homeland of Australia. She became the first Aussie, male or female, to play pro ball abroad when she signed a contract with Lotus Munchen of Germany in 1989-90. Timms also competed for the Australian National Team, which won bronze in the 1996 Olympics and silver in the 2000 Olympics.

Timms returned to the Mercury as a broadcaster on both the radio and television sides for the 2003 season. In 2005, Timms returned to the bench as an assistant to Head Coach Carrie Graf.



Quotable Timmsy:

"Life in the WNBA is just awesome. They treat women's basketball with the respect it deserves." – 1998

"I hate to be beaten. Away from the court, I am a bit of a practical joker and like to provide a relaxed atmosphere, but once I step on the court I cannot tolerate losing. It's personal." – 2000

"I'm proud as punch to have been able to influence younger girls in the game of basketball. A clear example of that is Kristen Veal. I really do feel proud of what I've been able to accomplish in the WNBA and I am really proud of Australian basketball." – 2001

"I wanted to catch a glimpse of the old Timmsy. That's how I used to play, but I haven't been able to do that for the last couple of years. It was nice to get those 10 points and feel like a player again."
– 2001, following final game vs. Houston

1997 Season

When Phoenix became one of eight cities (Charlotte, Cleveland, Houston, Los Angeles, New York, Sacramento and Utah) awarded a women's professional basketball team, the organization was not aware of the overwhelming amount of support the team would receive. The city of Phoenix welcomed the women's team with open arms and showed their support by making Phoenix one of the top cities in attendance averaging 13,000 plus fans the first season. The spark was lit when one of the greatest pioneers of women's basketball, Cheryl Miller, was named Head Coach/ General Manager of the Phoenix Mercury. With the allocation of Jennifer Gillom and Michele Timms, Miller led the Mercury to a winning record of 16-12, the Western Conference title and a playoff birth.

In the elite draft, two more key players were drafted by the Mercury, Bridget Pettis and Nancy Lieberman-Cline who added depth to the Mercury roster. The final roster included 10 active players and two developmental players. The Phoenix Mercury played their inaugural game on June 22, 1997 and defeated the Charlotte Sting 79-59 at America West Arena in front of a crowd of 16,102 fans. Gillom stepped it up and took control of the Mercury leading the team in scoring averaging 15.7 ppg for the season and ended the season being tied for fifth in the league in scoring and being named to the All-WNBA second team. Timms led the team in assists (5.1 apg); while, Foster led the team in rebounding (6.1 rpg). Pettis was second on the team in scoring (12.6 ppg) and ranked 12th in the league.

It didn't take long for Phoenix to make their mark in the WNBA. The first ever WNBA player trade was made on July 31, with the Mercury obtaining Mikiko Hagiwara from Sacramento for future considerations. Phoenix led the league in forcing their opponents to turn the ball over, with opponents averaging 21.4 turnovers per game. At the same time, the Mercury had the fewest turnovers in the league, averaging 17.0 turnovers per game. The Mercury also led the league in rebounding percentage with .508, as well as holding their opponents to a scoring low, an average of 65.2 points per game. Phoenix was tied with Los Angeles for the most steals in a single game (20) and was second behind Cleveland, for the most offensive rebounds in a single game (22).

There was one team that the Mercury fought against all season, the Los Angeles Sparks. In three meetings, the Mercury went into overtime twice and had a buzzer beater victory once. Toni Foster hit the only buzzer beater shot of the season on July 13 at Los Angeles in a 57-56 victory. In the final game of the season on August 24, the Mercury had a sell-out crowd for an overtime victory of 73-68 against Los Angeles, which advanced Phoenix into the playoffs.

Phoenix made the playoffs and faced the New York Liberty in the semi-final game (single elimination game). Phoenix fell to New York, 59-41, in front of their home crowd of 16,751 at America West Arena. Gillom and reserve Marlies Askamp each posted 9 points and Gillom grabbed 7 rebounds.

1998 Season

The second WNBA season got even hotter for the Phoenix Mercury. With the expansion of the league from 8 to 10 teams (Washington and Detroit) and a longer playoff series, Phoenix took their game all the way to the WNBA finals. Under the guidance of head coach Cheryl Miller, the team posted a 19-11 record and a second trip to the playoffs. The Mercury ended the regular season on a positive note posting a 7-2 record for the month of August, with a 4-0 record at home. Jennifer Gillom made two buzzer beater shots that not only led Phoenix into overtime victories, but also helped the Mercury advance to the playoffs. In June and July the Mercury posted a winning record of 12-9 with Gillom leading the way in scoring and rebounding. She was also named Player of the Week for the week of July 12th.

The 1998 Phoenix squad featured seven international players. The Mercury drafted the talented 6'8", 19 year old Russian, Maria Stepanova, in the first round (8th pick) of the 1998 draft. Three players were from Australia (Michelle Griffiths, Kristi Harrower, Michele Timms), one from Slovakia (Andrea Kuklova), Germany (Marlies Askamp) and Japan (Mikiko Hagiwara). Hagiwara, Kuklova and Stepanova all had traveling interpreters during the season.

Gillom became the second player in WNBA history (behind Cynthia Cooper) to surpass the 1,000 point mark in her career and ended the season with 1,064 points. She finished the season ranked second in the league in scoring, fifth in rebounding, sixth in three-point field goal percentage and tenth in steals. Gillom was named to the All-WNBA first team and led the team in scoring for the second straight season, averaging 20.8 ppg.

Phoenix faced the Cleveland Rockers in the first round of the WNBA playoffs. The Mercury finished the semi-final series with a 2-1 record. The Mercury defeated the Rockers in game one of the semi-finals in front of their home crowd (78-68). Phoenix had a heart breaking loss in game two in Cleveland by one point (67-66). In game three, Bridget Pettis led all scorers recording 27 points and 11 rebounds and helped secure the Mercury win (71-60). Gillom led the series against Cleveland averaging 19.7 ppg and 7.3 rpg. The Mercury advanced to the WNBA Finals where they faced the defending World Champion Houston Comets. The Mercury were victorious in game one at America West Arena (54-51). Michele Timms turned up the heat in game two of the Finals at Houston and led the team with 21 points (7-18 FG, 2-8 3-pt FG, 5-5 FT). The two teams went into overtime but the Comets came away with the win (74-69). The Comets won game three (80-71) and walked away with the WNBA Championship title. Gillom led the team in scoring and rebounding in the playoffs, posting an average of 17.0 ppg and 7.8 rpg.

The Mercury had arguably the best bench around the league. Phoenix was 11-2 when their bench scored 20+ points in a game. The bench posted an all-time high 47 points in an 88-59 victory vs. Washington on 8/4. Marlies Askamp led the bench during the season in scoring and rebounding, averaging 5.3 ppg and 3.3 rpg.

The Mercury fans filled the stands and kept Phoenix ranked in the top three in the league for attendance, averaging 13,765.

1999 Season

Whitney Houston sang the national anthem as all the stars came out in New York for the Inaugural WNBA All-Star game at Madison Square Garden. Jennifer Gillom and Michele Timms were selected to play in the inaugural WNBA All-Star game on the Western Conference team on July 14 in New York. With Van Chancellor coaching the Western Conference team, the West defeated the Eastern Conference team, which was coached by Linda Hill-MacDonald, 79-61.

With an overall record of 15-17 and Cheryl Miller re-signing a multi-year contract, the Mercury heated things up in the second half of the season. If the season had been decided on second half performance alone, Phoenix would have fared much better than their fourth place Western Conference finish. Based on the last 18 games of the season, the Mercury would have ended the season with an 11-7 record placing themselves in second place in the Western Conference. In the last 18 games the Mercury averaged 68.1 ppg, 39.6 rpg, 16.4 apg and 7.7 spg while in the first half of the season they averaged 67.6 ppg, 32.2 rpg, 15.3 apg and 6.5 spg and a record of 4-10. Phoenix also ended the season holding three WNBA single game records. They had the most field goal attempts (79), the most three-point field goal attempts (29) and the fewest free throw attempts (4). The Mercury won 11 consecutive home games, from 7/17 through 8/17, which set a new franchise record and ranked Phoenix second in the WNBA record books (behind the Houston Comets) for the most consecutive home games won.

Gillom became one of two players in the league to record 1,500 career points (behind Cynthia Cooper) and led the team in scoring for the third straight season (15.2 ppg). Gillom also scored in double figures 82 out of 90 regular season games in the last three seasons. She also recorded her 550th career rebound vs. Utah on 8/20. Gillom became the only Mercury player to have started and played in every game (90 games) in the last three years. Timms was a close second, having not played in three games and not starting in one game.

Maria Stepanova stepped it up off the bench and recorded career-high numbers. Her 62 total blocks landed her ranked second in league for blocks per game (1.94 bpg). She had a streak of at least one blocked shot (41 total blocks) in 18 straight games from 7/17 through 8/20. Her career-high six blocks on 6/26 at Detroit was a Mercury franchise record for the most blocks in a single game. Stepanova recorded four consecutive double-doubles and ended the season with six double-doubles.

With the Mercury bench having so much depth, they outscored their opponents bench 19 out of 32 times and 12 out of 16 times at home. Maria Stepanova led the bench in scoring (7.8 ppg) and rebounding (5.1 rpg).

Once the American Basketball League (ABL) closed its doors, many of those talented players joined the WNBA and heated up the competition. With the competition fierce, America West Arena had no problem packing the house and maintaining Phoenix's top three ranking in the league for attendance.

2000 Season

Phoenix hosted the second annual WNBA All-Star Game on July 17, and Brandy Reed represented the Mercury on the Western Conference team that bested the East, 73-61.

The Mercury finished the season with a franchise-best 20-12 record and their third playoff berth in four seasons.

At the start of the season, the Mercury put together a franchise-record four-game road winning streak (6/13-6/24), and the team continued its winning ways by tying a franchise record with four consecutive overall wins from July 7-13. In August, the Mercury shot a scorching WNBA-record 63.6 percent from the field vs. the Seattle Storm.

Phoenix also secured a mention in the record books by holding the Miami Sol to a 2000 WNBA season-low and Mercury franchise-low 44 points, while limiting the Sol to a franchise-low 22.6 percent from the field.

Despite the injuries the team faced, many Mercury players excelled individually as well. Reed finished the season ranked third in the league and first on the team in scoring (19.0 ppg), while Jennifer Gillom (12.5 ppg) had the second-best scoring average for Phoenix. Reed (5.8 rpg) and Michelle Griffiths (4.0 rpg) were the top Mercury rebounders. The Mercury accomplished these milestones in spite of the numerous injuries to key players. Michelle Cleary, Maria Stepanova and Michele Timms all suffered season-ending knee injuries, while Gillom and Griffiths each missed time due to sprained ankles. To compensate for these injuries, Phoenix signed guards Dena Head and Nicole Kubik mid-season.

The 2000 season was one which saw Reed return to Phoenix through a trade after spending one season in Minnesota, and finish the year ranked third in the WNBA in free throw percentage, third in scoring, fifth in steals and tied for 15th in rebounding. Also, Michelle Cleary set a new franchise record for individual assists in a game with 12 assists on 7/19 vs. Utah, and Tonya Edwards was nominated for the second annual American Express Small Business Services WNBA Entrepreneurial Award. Edwards has a snack vending business out of Columbus, Ohio. In addition, Gillom set a new career high and also tied the Mercury's all-time record for most free throws in a game by shooting 12-12 from the line on 6/14 vs. Portland, and Lisa Harrison finished second in the league with a 1.36 steals-to-turnovers ratio. "The Sparkplug" Bridget Pettis kept her streak alive of consecutive games played with 122. Finally, rookie Adrain Williams was one of only two Mercury players (Reed is the other) to record a double-double this season.

Phoenix's impressive finish led the team to the playoffs for the third time in its four-year existence. In the First Round of the 2000 Playoffs, the Mercury faced the league's top team, the Los Angeles Sparks, and fought hard, but lost both games to their Western Conference foe.

The WNBA welcomed four new teams (Indiana Fever, Miami Sol, Portland Fire and Seattle Storm) to the league and the Mercury won all nine games against the 2000 expansion teams.

The 2000 season also featured the 2000 Olympics in Sydney, Australia. Four Mercury players joined their national teams in Sydney for the Games. Trisha Fallon, Michelle Griffiths and Michele Timms suited up for the host Australian National Team, and won a silver medal, and Maria Stepanova played for the Russian National Team.

2001 Season

The 2001 season marked the fifth anniversary of the Phoenix Mercury and the WNBA. One of eight inaugural members of the league, the Mercury has seen the league raise the level of competition and expand to 16 teams over the years. Phoenix boasts and 83-71 overall record and captured a Western Conference title in 1997 and a trip to the WNBA finals in 1998.

On January 8, 2001, the Phoenix Mercury named Cynthia Cooper the second head coach in franchise history. Cooper, winner of four straight WNBA titles with the Houston Comets and two-time league MVP, took over for Cheryl Miller, who resigned following the 2000 season. Cooper guided the Mercury to a 13-19 record and a fifth-place finish in the Western Conference.

As a team, the Mercury enjoyed the longest winning streak in franchise history from July 14-27, where they won five games in a row. This included two game-winning shots by fifth-year veteran Jennifer Gillom, who hit buzzer-beaters to defeat Detroit and Seattle during that streak. Another highlight saw all five starters score in double figures for the first time in Mercury history as Phoenix downed Minnesota on 7/14/01. Eight different players led the team in scoring throughout the year while ten different players led in rebounds.

Individually, Maria Stepanova (.507) and Trisha Fallon (.490) ranked among league leaders in field goal percentage while point guards Kristen Veal (4.3) and Michele Timms (4.1) finished fifth and sixth, respectively, among assist leaders. Veal also ranked first among WNBA rookies in the assist category. Lisa Harrison ranked eighth among WNBA free throw shooters with a .864 percentage.

Three of the original Mercury members, continued to make headlines in 2001. Bridget Pettis saw action in all 32 games in 2001, extending her streak to 154 games played over five seasons in the WNBA. She joins a select group of just six players who have appeared in every game in WNBA history. Jennifer Gillom notched her 2,000th career point on 6/10/01, becoming only the third player in WNBA history to reach this milestone. Michele Timms capped off her professional career and the 2001 season on 'Michele Timms Night' by hitting a three pointer with 7.5 seconds left in the 56-38 victory over Houston on 8/14/01.

Off the court, the Mercury continued their strong showing in the community with various appearances and programs. Mercury players volunteered their time at events such as spaghetti dinners, hospital visits, book drives, kid's clinics and Boys and Girls Club visits. For the month of July, Michele Timms was named the WNBA's Hometown Hero, honoring a player who donates time and energy to their local community. A $5,000 check was presented in her name to the Mary Cobb 'Building Dream' Foundation, a program created by Cynthia Cooper that raises funds for breast cancer patients.

2001 (13-19 RECORD)
ROW ONE: Adriana Moises, Bridget Pettis, Jennifer Gillom, Ilona Korstine, Kristen Veal, Michele Timms.

2002 Season

The 2002 season marked the sixth year for both the WNBA and one of its original eight teams, the Phoenix Mercury. In six seasons, Phoenix owns an overall record of 94-92. The "Mighty Mercury" won the Western Conference Title in 1997 and earned a trip to the WNBA Finals in 1998.

2002 could only be described as a frustrating year for the Mercury. In the first few days of training camp, the club learned that 6'8" Russian center Maria Stepanova would miss the season due to pregnancy. Rebounding from the loss of Stepanova, the team came out of the gate quickly, winning four out of the first five games. Soon after the hot start, things began to change. On June 26, Head Coach Cynthia Cooper resigned from her position to spend more time with her family and Assistant Coach Linda Sharp was named Interim Coach for the remainder of the season. When Cooper left, the team held a 6-4 record. The Mercury responded by winning their first game under Sharp, knocking off the Seattle Storm 62-53. After a home loss to the defending champion LA Sparks, the team embarked on a five-game road swing.

The road would prove to be a thorn in the Mercury's side all season, as they endured a 15-game losing streak on the road. The team finally earned a win in Portland on August 11, the last road game of the year, beating the Fire 73-70 to finish the season 1-15 away from America West Arena.

On August 7, the Mercury honored an original member of the team by retiring Michele Timms' jersey. "Timmsy's" #7 was sent to the rafters in front of 10,286 Mercury fans, the largest crowd of the season. After the halftime ceremony, the X-Factor was treated to a 59-57 Mercury victory.

The 2002 Mercury finished with a record of 11-21, missing the playoffs for the second consecutive season. On October 23, 2002, the Mercury announced the hiring of John Shumate as the club's third head coach in franchise history. Shumate joined the Mercury with a wealth of basketball knowledge having played in the NBA for several seasons before joining the Toronto Raptors coaching staff as an assistant and then the Phoenix Suns scouting staff.

2003 Season Team Notes

The 2003 season marked the seventh anniversary for the WNBA, and one of it's charter franchises, the Phoenix Mercury. Under the direction of first-year head coach John Shumate, the 2003 Mercury finished the season with an 8-26 record. Although not the season they had hoped for, the record was certainly not indicative of the effort put forth both on and off the court by the Mercury.

The Mercury had the fourth pick in the 2003 Draft, the club's highest draft pick to date, and selected 6'2" forward Plenette Pierson from Texas Tech. The Mercury also added veteran leadership at the point guard position by selecting Tamicha Jackson in the WNBA's Dispersal Draft. After all their preseason moves, the Mercury found themselves with one of the youngest rosters in the WNBA.

With a new coach in place, and just four players returning from the 2002 squad, the 2003 Mercury spent the majority of the season trying to implement a new defensive style, as well as jell together as a team during the short 34-game season. Not an easy task for such a young squad.

On July 2, 2002 veteran forward Adrian Williams was named to the 2003 WNBA All-Star Team, the first Mercury player to be named to an All-Star Team since 2000. Williams joins Michele Timms, Jennifer Gillom and Brandy Reed as representatives of Phoenix in the All-Star Game. In her All-Star debut, the 6'4" Williams saw 19 minutes of action en route to nine points, six rebounds and two steals as the West defeated the East 84-75.

Signed by the Mercury as a free agent in April, Anna DeForge quickly stepped up as the Mercury's on-court leader. Returning to the league after a two-year absence, DeForge finished the season as the Mercury's leading scorer (11.9 ppg) and finished among the league's top ten in three-point shooting (.412). A strong candidate for the WNBA's Most Improved Player Award, DeForge led the Mercury in scoring on 14 occasions.

While the Mercury managed eight victories on the season, the club lost 17 games by nine points or less and eight games by less than five points. On July 15, the Mercury battled the two-time defending champion Los Angeles Sparks to double-overtime before falling one point shy of the victory. Phoenix would see another double-overtime contest August 3 at Washington, this time emerging victorious in the extra sessions.

Off the court, the Mercury continued their strong support within the community by making numerous appearances through team and league programs. Mercury players volunteered their time to assist Valley children in the WNBA's Read to Achieve Program and also visited numerous schools, YMCAs and other venues for basketball clinics and camps. For her off-season dedication to the community, forward Kayte Christensen won the WNBA's Community Assist Award in May for all of her efforts across the Valley.

2004 Season Team Notes

The 2004 season marked a new era in Mercury history with a new coach, new owners and the number one pick in both the draft and the dispersal draft. While the Mercury fell a game short of making the playoffs, the Mercury more than doubled their win total from the previous season and established themselves as an improved team and contender for the upcoming seasons.

In February 2004, as the WNBA entered its eighth season, the Phoenix Mercury became the first team in WNBA history to have individual owners invest in the team as Anne Mariucci and Kathy Munro paid 1 million for an initial 10 percent stake in the Mercury.

Two months later, the Phoenix Mercury announced the hiring of Carrie Graf as their head coach. Graf was no stranger to the Mercury, having spent four seasons as an assistant coach with the Mercury (1998, 1999, 2001 and 2003). Graf became the fifth head coach in Mercury history and led the Mercury to a 17-17 record in her first season.

Joining Graff on the sidelines was former Minnesota Lynx head coach Brian Agler and a familiar face in the Mercury organization, former guard/forward Lisa Harrison who retired in the offseason.

On April 17, 2004, history was made as the Mercury selected UCONN sensation Diana Taurasi with the first pick. Mercury joined Penny Taylor who was selected first overall in the dispersal draft.

With a new coach and new players, the Mercury started the season slow, falling to 8-12 after a home loss to Minnesota on July 19. However, after acquiring Gwen Jackson from the San Antonio Silver Stars for 2003 All-Star Adrian Williams, the Mercury went on to win eight of their next nine games.

The Mercury and the rest of the WNBA took a break from action during the month of August to let their players compete in the 2004 Olympics in Greece. The Mercury sent two players to the Olympics. Taurasi represented the United States and forward Taylor represented Australia. The two met face to face in the gold medal game, where the United States prevailed 73-63 and took home the gold medal. Taurasi scored eight points in that game and Taylor led Australia with 16 points in that game.

The Mercury returned to action on September 1, and won their first four games and improved to 16-13, but the Mercury dropped their next four games and fell one game short of making the playoffs.

Individually, the 2004 season was led by three players, Taurasi, Taylor and veteran guard Anna DeForge. The trio scored 1,500 of the Mercury's 2,300 points, or 65 percent of the team's offense (Taurasi 578, DeForge 488 and Taylor 434).

Taurasi became the first player in WNBA history to start her career with three consecutive 20+ point games. She went on to average 17.0 ppg and won the Rookie of the Year award and also was named to the All-WNBA First Team. DeForge finished the season averaging 14.4 points a game and was named to the WNBA select team that played the US Olympic team before they traveled to Greece. She also was named WNBA Player of the Week for the week of July 5.

Off the court, the Mercury continued their strong showing in the community with various appearances and team and league programs. Mercury players volunteered their time to assist Valley children in the WNBA's Read to Achieve and Mind, Body, Spirit programs and also visited numerous schools, YMCAs and other venues for basketball clinics and camps.

2000 Playoffs

Phoenix/Los Angeles 2000 First Round

Phoenix made it to the post-season for the third time in four years and for the first time since the 1998 season. With the addition of four expansion teams in 2000, the playoffs featured the top four teams in each conference and three rounds of best-of-three game series. Phoenix entered the First Round as the fourth seed in the Western Conference and faced the top team in the league, the Los Angeles Sparks. The Sparks dominated the first game, never trailing, and building its biggest lead to 23 en route to an 86-71 victory at America West Arena. Lisa Leslie led L.A. with 20 points and 11 rebounds as the Sparks shot .515 from the field. Brandy Reed paced Phoenix with 17 points and was one of five Mercury players who scored in double figures. In the second game, the Sparks came out even stronger, shooting .557 from the field, including .640 in the second half, as they topped the Mercury 101-76 in Los Angeles. Phoenix led 10-8 at the 16:23 mark in the first half, but L.A. took the lead and never relinquished it as they swept the Mercury and advanced to the Western Conference Semi-Finals. Leslie again led the Sparks with 29 points, on 12-of-17 shooting, and 8 rebounds, and Mwadi Mabika added 15 points and 8 boards.

1998 Playoffs

Phoenix/Houston 1998 WNBA Finals

Head Coach Cheryl Miller led her team to the WNBA Finals where they met Houston in a best of three game series. In Game One of the Finals, in front of a packed America West Arena, Phoenix defeated Houston 54-51 on 8/27. With two minutes left to play, a lay-up by Jennifer Gillom and a free throw by Michelle Griffiths, secured the Mercury win. The Mercury then traveled to Houston for what would be a battle till the end. Phoenix dominated Game Two on 8/29, until Houston went on an 11-0 run with two minutes left to play. Michele Timms was fired up as she led the Mercury with 21 points, 12 of which came in the first half. Then with under a minute left to play, Cynthia Cooper kept Houston alive with a jump shot, which sent the game into overtime (66-66). The Mercury fought to stay on top but Gillom's three points were the only numbers they posted in overtime. The Mercury fell 74-69 in overtime. With the series tied at one a piece, Phoenix had to defeat Houston at a sold out Compaq Center on 9/1 to capture the WNBA title. The battle continued in Game Three as Phoenix and Houston traded baskets for the first five minutes but the Mercury ended the first half down by six. Phoenix jumped out in the second half with an 11-2 run to take over the lead but could not hold on till the end, losing 80-71. Gillom led the Mercury in the Finals, scoring 14.3 ppg and rebounding 7.7 rpg in three games.

1998 Playoffs

Phoenix/Cleveland 1998 Semi-finals

The WNBA playoffs changed for the better in 1998. The same rules applied from the 1997 season, with four teams with the best records advancing, but the series changed from two rounds of single elimination games to two rounds of the best of three series. For the second year, Phoenix made it into the post season. In front of their home crowd, the Mercury posted a 78-68 victory over the Rockers in Game One on 8/22. Phoenix dominated the second half, with Jennifer Gillom posting 13 points. Phoenix then traveled to Cleveland on 8/24 for Game Two of the series. The Mercury came out strong in the first half but the Rockers slowly took the lead. Phoenix had a one-point advantage and a minute left to play when Merlakia Jones of Cleveland hit a lay-up for 67-66 win. Gillom hit 19 of her 27 points in the second half but it was not enough to give the Mercury the victory. The series was tied at one game a piece and the Mercury needed a win to advance to the WNBA Finals. Game Three was a battle at Cleveland on 8/25. The first half was a war with neither team being ahead by more than seven points at a time. The high energy from Bridget Pettis in the first half carried over into the second half as the Mercury dominated and won, 71-60. Pettis ended the game with 27 points, 14 points in the first half, and 11 rebounds, helping Phoenix get to the WNBA Finals. Gillom led the Mercury in the Cleveland series posting 19.7 ppg and 7.3 rpg in three games. The Mercury won the semi-final series, 2-1 and advanced themselves to the WNBA Finals, where they would face their season rivals, the Houston Comets.

1997 Playoffs

Phoenix/New York 1997 Semi-finals

In the inaugural WNBA season, the Phoenix Mercury made it all the way to the WNBA playoffs. With eight teams in the league and four in each conference, only four teams would advance to the playoffs. The East was made up of Charlotte, Cleveland, New York and Houston, while the West was made up of Phoenix, Los Angeles, Sacramento and Utah. The playoff series included two rounds of single elimination games. Phoenix faced New York in their first playoff appearance in front of a sold out crowd at America West Arena on 8/28. The closest the Mercury came to the lead was in the first half when they were down by one point (8-7). Phoenix fought a losing battle as they went on a 6-0 run late in the second half, but it wasn't enough momentum to keep the Mercury alive. Phoenix only came within five points the second half as New York defeated Phoenix 59-41. Phoenix was led by the efforts of Jennifer Gillom scoring nine points and grabbing seven rebounds while Marlies Askamp added nine points. New York went on to meet Houston in the WNBA Finals. The Comets defeated the Liberty, 65-51, at the Compaq Center on 8/30.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

1997 2006

Through WNBA Cares, the WNBA is deeply committed to creating programs that improve the quality of life for all people, with a special emphasis on promoting a healthy lifestyle and positive body image, breast health awareness, youth and family development, and education.

WNBA Cares in partnership with NBA Cares, an initiative through which, the leagues, players and teams will raise and contribute $100 million for charity, donate more than 1 million hours of hands-on volunteer service to communities worldwide, and build more than 100 places where kids and families can live, learn and play over the next five years.

WNBA BE SMART – BE FIT – BE YOURSELF

WNBA Be Smart – Be Fit – Be Yourself encourages teens and women of all ages to learn more about their bodies and the importance of physical fitness through programs related to health, fitness, nutrition and self-esteem. Programming inspires teens and women to get started on "being fit" through small changes in their daily regimen. The content of the program is communicated and delivered through a Fitness Journal, a 'Team' of Spokespeople, National and Local grassroots events, promotion and a mobile tour.

BREAST HEALTH AWARENESS

For nine years, the WNBA Breast Health Awareness program has focused on generating awareness and educating women about breast cancer in addition to raising funds for the initiative. The WNBA and its teams have raised nearly $2 million to aid in the fight against breast cancer.

READ TO ACHIEVE

Read to Achieve is a year-round, league-wide initiative supported by NBA, WNBA and NBADL teams that promotes the values of reading and on-line literacy and encourages families and adults to read regularly with young children. The program includes reading events, the donation of books and literacy materials, and the creation of Reading and Learning Centers.

JR. WNBA

By stressing fundamental skill development, teamwork, sportsmanship and positive adult participation, the Jr. WNBA aims to develop a life-long passion for the game of basketball by providing a support structure that encourages participation, and makes the game fun and rewarding for players, coaches, officials and parents.

COMMUNITY ASSIST AWARD

The WNBA Community Assist Award was created to honor the WNBA Players that reflect the passion that the league and its players have for their communities. The WNBA recognizes one player in each of the 14 WNBA team markets with an off-season Community Assist Award. The WNBA donates $500 in the name of each off-season award winner to the charity of her choice. In June, July and August the WNBA chooses one player from across the league for the Community Assist Award and donates $5,000 in the name of that player to the charity of her choice. On-court presentations to the winning players occur.

One Step Beyond: Celebrating Girls in Sport Symposium

March 29, 2005

PARTNERSHIPS

In reaching our social responsibility goals, the WNBA is proud to partner with the following organizations:

- Girls Inc.
- Girl Scouts of America
- Susan G. Komen Foundation
- VERB
- Centers for Disease Control
- Reading is Fundamental, Inc.
- Scholastic
- DisneyHand
- ESPN Play Your Way
- American Heart Association
- March of Dimes
- Make-A-Wish Foundation
- Boys & Girls Clubs of America
- YMCA
- American Red Cross
- Feed the Children
- KaBOOM!
- Habitat for Humanity
- Special Olympics
- Ronald McDonald House

Diana Taurasi signs a hand-made plate for a Girl Scouts fundraiser.

Plan-It League

For the tenth year, in partnership with the City of Phoenix, high school aged girls are hired by the City of Phoenix as interns who serve as coaches and officials for an all-girls basketball league. In addition to learning how to coach and officiate, interns are taught life skills such as time management, conflict resolution, leadership development and sales techniques. Throughout the season, teams have the opportunity to play at US Airways Center at least once during the summer. Guest speakers have included former ESPN sportscaster Robin Roberts and WNBA official Lisa Mattingly who help the girls explore off-court careers in sports. The program certainly lives up to its theme: "A basketball league and a plan to succeed."

Mighty Mercury Kid's Club presented by Game On!

Kids of all ages enjoy the Mercury, but kids between the ages of 6-14 are able to enhance their Mercury experience even more by joining the Mercury Kid's Club. This isn't your average fan club; members receive a variety of gifts and services including t-shirts, a birthday card, reserved seating at open practices, special Hip Hop Squad and basketball clinics, autograph opportunities, discounts at the Team Shops and other special offers throughout the year. Applications are available by calling Phoenix Mercury offices at 602-514-8331 or online at www.phoenixmercury.com <http://www.phoenixmercury.com/> .

Phoenix Mercury Rising Booster Club

Since its inception in the summer 2003, the Mercury Rising Booster Club has been comprised of some of the most dedicated Phoenix Mercury fans locally and even fans as far away as Ohio, Illinois and Australia. The Booster Club proudly boasts over 200 annual members, and increases each year in membership and great events to attend. The Booster Club Members are invited to our annual road trips, game viewing parties and our famous annual karaoke night.

The purpose of the Mercury Rising Booster Club is to bring fans in the community together to show their support for the Phoenix Mercury and Women's Basketball. The Club is a great opportunity for fans to meet and enjoy time with other basketball fans, as well as a great way to get to know their favorite WNBA basketball team a little better than the average fan. Most planned events are family-oriented, and provides members some opportunities to see the players close up and off the court.

SCORE FOR KID

SHOOTING TO MAKE DREAMS COME TR

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS:

- For a donation of $250, contributors send 20 girls and their families to a Mercury game this season. In addition, each child receives dinner at the game.
- Tickets are distributed through United Way agencies.
- Contributors receive an invitation to an exclusive reception at a Mercury home game as a "thank you" for their contribution, are recognized during the game and receive a certificate of participation.

1997 2006

US Airways Center

From its planning inception in 1988 and eventual opening in June of 1992, US Airways Center (formerly America West Arena) was the benchmark for other cities and other sports facilities.Its design boasted innovations that had not been seen in arenas of its day including multi-story suite levels, attached premium parking facilities, and an integrated team practice facility. Both public and private critics saw the venue as a catalytic project capable of stimulating urban growth.

Technology changed, entertainment options proliferated and the city's emerging new downtown continued to evolve in positive ways, and to meet the expectations of fans, Jerry Colangelo and the City of Phoenix expanded and improved the fan experience at every level of US Airways Center. The building recently underwent

US Airways Center recently completed a major $70 million expansion and improvement project. Technology improvements include a 360 degree LED system in the seating bowl, a state-of-the-art scoreboard with four 9' x 16' HDTV screens and a new sound system. With soaring glass walls, a 12 x 20 foot video screen and over 14,000 square feet of indoor space, the new Casino Arizona Pavilion creates a grand entrance to the "all-new" US Airways Center. A uniquely flexible indoor/outdoor venue, the Bud Light Paseo features state-of-the-art sound and projection systems, as well as a stylish bar area and facilities for full stage shows. Three premium clubs, the Lexus Club, the B-Lounge and Courtside club, have been enhanced and continue to be hot spots for the sports crowd. At street level the US Airways Center now features a Starbucks, expanded Team Shop and il Palazzetto, a Levy Brothers restaurant featuring fine Italian cuisine.

The new name of the venue was announced in November 2005 along with the finalization of a 10-year naming rights agreement, which followed the merger between America West Airlines and US Airways, completed September 27, 2005. America West Arena officially became US Airways Center on January 6, 2006.

MEDIA ENTRANCE: Located on the Northeast corner of the building on Jefferson Street

HISTORY OF THE WNBA

On April 24, 1996, women's basketball announced "We Got Next" as the NBA Board of Governors approved the concept of a Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) to begin play in June of 1997.

Since that day in 1996 there have been many firsts for the WNBA:
Val Ackerman – the first president of the WNBA
Sheryl Swoopes – the first player signed to the WNBA
Cynthia Cooper – the league's first Most Valuable Player
Houston Comets – the first WNBA Champions
Lisa Leslie – the first WNBA player to dunk

The inaugural WNBA season tipped off on June 21, 1997, with the New York Liberty taking on the Los Angeles Sparks at the Great Western Forum in Inglewood, California. A crowd of 14,284 watched as Sparks' guard Penny Toler scored the first basket in WNBA history. The Liberty defeated the Sparks, 67-57.

10th Anniversary:

As the most successful and longest-running professional women's team sport in America, the WNBA looks forward to celebrating its 10th Anniversary in 2006 when we will pause to honor those who have enabled us to reach this milestone and eagerly look to embrace the future and the myriad opportunities that lie before us.

To commemorate this special anniversary season, the League will initiate a number of special platforms. Two of the more visible platforms will be the selection of 10 players to the WNBA All-Decade Team and the selection of the 10 Greatest Moments in WNBA history. Both initiatives will involve fan voting on WNBA.com.

Voting for the All-Decade Team, which will see fans, celebrities, media and basketball personnel narrow a group of 30 nominees to a list of 10 current and former players, will take place between April 28 and May 31. The team will be announced on June 13 and will be honored at the WNBA All-Star Game in July.

The Greatest Moments program will involve fans choosing their top 10 moments from among a list of 20 nominations. The top 10 Greatest Moments will then be aired on ESPN and ABC broadcasts with the #1 moment being unveiled during the 2006 WNBA Finals.

The WNBA's 10th anniversary season tips off on Saturday, May 20, 2006 and will include ABC's broadcast of the defending WNBA Champion Sacramento Monarchs as they commemorate their 2005 WNBA title by raising the championship banner prior to squaring off against All-Star guard Diana Taurasi and the Phoenix Mercury at ARCO Arena beginning at 4 p.m. EDT.

Broadcast:

The national television schedule for the 2006 regular season includes six games on ABC, 14 Tuesday night games on ESPN2 (including five doubleheaders), and nearly 50 games on NBA TV. The league's 10th season also will feature appointment viewing on Tuesday nights as ESPN2 will televise 14 WNBA games – including five doubleheaders – on Tuesdays this spring/summer.

Broadcast coverage of the 2006 WNBA postseason by ABC and ESPN2 will include more first-round games than in 2005, and continuing with the league's more consistent presence on ESPN2, every game of the 2006 WNBA Finals will be televised by ESPN2.

Global Reach:

The WNBA enjoys significant popularity around the globe as evidenced by the fact that in each year since 1999, WNBA regular season games and Finals contests have been telecast to more countries, in more languages, via more broadcast partners than the previous year. During the 2005 season, the WNBA set records with 68 telecasters broadcasting WNBA programming to 193 countries in 31 languages. In addition, WNBA entered first-time agreements with telecasters in many markets, including Albania; Belarus; China; Czech Republic; Dominican Republic; Hong Kong; Nigeria; the Philippines; and Ukraine. International television interest in the league is driven by the league's many international stars, including Lauren Jackson of Australia, who in 2003 became the first foreign-born league MVP in the WNBA. In 2005, WNBA games and programming were broadcast to all 19 countries represented by one the league's 30 international players.

Partners:

The WNBA enters its groundbreaking 10th season with unprecedented marketing support for a women's professional sport. In addition to enjoying long-standing partnerships with major national and international brands such as Coke, Gatorade, Nike, Reebok, America Online, Spalding and Southwest Airlines, the league last season added major new marketing partnerships with Toyota, T-Mobile, and McDonalds. This year, new partners include Ocean Spray-Craisins and Luminari. In addition, existing partners Reebok and Spalding took on new roles, respectively, as the Presenting Partner and Associate Partner for the 2006 WNBA Draft.

HISTORY OF THE WNBA (continued)

The WNBA's marketing partners utilize the league to support women's sports and reach its strong fan base of women, families and young girls through advertising in the League's nationally-televised games, national promotions, player endorsements and special events. The WNBA delivers the highest concentration of adult women, who statistics show make the majority of purchasing decisions in American households, both in-arena and on television, of any sport.

WNBA All-Star:

On July 14, 1999, the league held the Inaugural WNBA All-Star Game at Madison Square Garden in New York City, which was televised live on ESPN. The capacity crowd of 18,649 witnessed the incredible athleticism, teamwork, fan involvement and in-arena excitement that is unique to the WNBA. The Western Conference All-Stars – led by the game's Most Valuable Player and Los Angeles Sparks center Lisa Leslie – defeated the Eastern Conference 79-61.

In 2003, the WNBA All-Star Game marked its fifth anniversary with a return to Madison Square Garden on July 12. The event made its network television debut on ABC. The West All-Stars won the event for the fifth straight year by beating the East All-Stars 84-75 in front of 18,610 fans, with Nikki Teasley of the Los Angeles Sparks taking home the MVP honors.

In 2004, the Summer Olympic Games in Athens, Greece created a one of a kind opportunity for the WNBA. After the league's decision to break for the month of August to allow Olympic team members to represent the U.S., the concept for WNBA All-Stars vs. USA Basketball: The Game at Radio City was born. Serving as an Olympic Team send-off, the game – played in front of a sell-out crowd – made history as the first basketball game played in the historic venue.

2005 brought the All-Star game to Mohegan Sun arena, home of the Connecticut Sun. The West All-Stars kept its perfect record alive (6-for-6) as they won the highest-scoring WNBA All-Star game in history, 122-99. MVP honors went to Houston Comets guard Sheryl Swoopes and Lisa Leslie converted on her second career WNBA dunk.

WNBA Finals:

The first four years of the WNBA saw the Houston Comets dominate the league Finals and create the first dynasty of the WNBA. The Comets captured the inaugural Championship against New York on August 30, 1997 by a score of 65-51. Comets guard, Cynthia Cooper won the first Finals MVP award. In 1998, the WNBA Finals expanded to a three-game series and Houston defeated Phoenix two games to one. Houston's Cynthia Cooper captured her second consecutive Finals MVP award. The Houston Comets would go on to capture Championship titles in 1999 and 2000.

In 2001, Los Angeles knocked off Houston in the early rounds of the Western Conference playoffs and advanced on to meet Charlotte in the WNBA Finals. Los Angeles, due in large part to the play of Finals MVP Lisa Leslie, won the WNBA Finals two games to none. In 2002, Los Angeles advanced to the WNBA Finals and earned the right to defend their WNBA championship versus New York. The Sparks defeated the Liberty two games to zero and won their second consecutive Finals and Lisa Leslie won the WNBA Finals MVP award for the second straight year.

In 2003 the WNBA had a new championship team, after just two champions in five years. The Detroit Shock captured the WNBA crown in front of a record-setting crowd of 22,076. The Shock won 83-78 over the Los Angeles Sparks and Detroit center Ruth Riley was awarded the Finals MVP.

In 2004, the Seattle Storm and the Connecticut Sun advanced to the WNBA Finals each for the first time. In a decisive third game, the Storm who were in complete control the entire forty minutes, defeated the Sun 74-60 and Seattle guard Betty Lennox captured the Finals MVP title.

In 2005, The Sacramento Monarchs and the Connecticut Sun competed for the chance to win the first ever best-of-five WNBA Finals. The Monarchs captured the team's first WNBA championship as they took down the Sun in four games and Sacramento center Yolanda Griffith won the Finals MVP award.

The WNBA Draft:

The Comets selected Tina Thompson, the Pac-10 Conference's leading scorer, with the first pick of the inaugural WNBA Draft. Margo Dydek, a 7-2 center from Poland, was selected first in the 1998 Draft by the Starzz, and two-time Associated Press Women's Basketball Player of the Year Chamique Holdsclaw was the Washington Mystics' No. 1 selection in the 1999 Draft. In 2000, the Cleveland Rockers selected Ann Wauters from Belgium as the 1st overall pick, and Australian Olympian Lauren Jackson went to the Seattle Storm with the No. 1 selection in 2001. One Year later, National Player of the Year Sue Bird was selected by Seattle, who had the top pick for the second consecutive year by virtue of the WNBA's first Draft Lottery, held in New York on November 13, 2001. The Cleveland Rockers made Latoya Thomas of Mississippi State the No. 1 selection in the 2003 WNBA Draft held Friday, April 25, 2003. The 2004 first overall pick has come to be known as the worst kept secret in the history of the WNBA Draft when the Phoenix Mercury selected University of Connecticut star and three-time NCAA Champion Diana Taurasi. On April 16, 2005 Charlotte selected Janel McCarville from the University of Minnesota as the number one overall pick in the 2005 WNBA Draft.

In the Community:

Off the court the WNBA continues to position its players as positive role models for all of its fans - male and female, young and old. The League and its teams created and implemented programs which emphasized healthy lifestyles, positive self-image, breast health awareness, reading and youth basketball programs.

Through WNBA Cares, the WNBA is deeply committed to creating programs that improve the quality of life for all people, with a special emphasis on promoting a healthy lifestyle and positive body image, breast health awareness, youth and family development, and education.

WNBA Cares in partnership with NBA Cares, an initiative through which, the Leagues, players and teams will raise and contribute $100 million for charity, donate more than 1 million hours of hands-on volunteer service to communities worldwide, and build more than 100 places where kids and families can live, learn and play over the next five years.

WNBA Be Smart – Be Fit – Be Yourself encourages teens and women of all ages to learn more about their bodies and the importance of physical fitness through programs related to health, fitness, nutrition and self-esteem. Programming inspires teens and women to get started on "being fit" through small changes in their daily regimen. The content of the program is communicated and delivered through a Fitness Journal, a 'Team' of Spokespeople, National and Local grassroots events, promotion and a mobile tour.

Also, this past off season the WNBA was the recipient of the 2006 Women who Make a Difference Award from the National Council on Research for Women

Key Rules: Ball size: 28.5" (high school and NCAA women's)
3-point line: 20'6 1/4" (International)

The WNBA has approved three rule changes for the 2006 season:

- The format of WNBA games will be changed to four 10-minute quarters instead of the previous two 20-minute halves.
- In addition, the 24-second shot clock replaces the previous 30-second clock. It will be reset to 14 seconds when a defensive foul or other defensive violation occurs with less than 14 seconds remaining on the shot clock. It will be left unchanged when a defensive violation occurs with 14 seconds or more remaining on the shot clock.
- Jump balls to begin the second, third and fourth quarter, formerly the second half, have been eliminated and the winner of the opening tip will receive the ball out of bounds at the start of the fourth quarter. The loser of the opening tip will have position at the beginning of the second and third quarter. Jump balls, however, will still be used to determine possession after a held ball.

We Got Game:

Women's basketball has come a long way since its beginnings in 1892 when Senda Berenson adapted James Naismith's basketball rules for women. And with the continued growth of the WNBA, the sport continues to grow in popularity and set new standards for what women athletes, and women in general, can achieve. Phoenix Suns

Following a break-out season that tied a franchise record for wins in a season, the Phoenix Suns once again underwent drastic summer changes. The 62-win team lost three-fifths of its starting line-up from a season before, trading Quentin Richardson to New York, Joe Johnson to Atlanta and losing All-Star Amaré Stoudemire to injury for the first 66 games of 2005-06.

The Suns moved aggressively to fill holes in their Pacific Division Champion squad. Phoenix added depth and defensive toughness in acquiring Kurt Thomas from the Knicks and signing free agents Raja Bell and Brian Grant. Invaluable were the under-the-radar additions of Boris Diaw (from Atlanta) and Eddie House and the maturation of Leandro Barbosa. The moves, combined with the nucleus of All-Star Shawn Marion and 2004-05 NBA MVP Steve Nash, helped the Suns win the Pacific Division for the second straight year – a feat never accomplished by a Suns team.

Highlighted by NBA Finals appearances in 1993 and 1976, the Suns history has been bright under the direction of Jerry Colangelo. Colangelo joined the club at its inception in 1968, moving from the Chicago Bulls to become Phoenix's first general manager at 28. Winner of an unprecedented four NBA Executive of the Year awards, Colangelo has served in the roles of general manager, head coach, president, chairman, CEO and managing general partner.

Phoenix has been able to attract some of the NBA's best over the years, with players such as Connie Hawkins, Paul Westphal, Kevin Johnson, Tom Chambers, Charles Barkley, Jason Kidd, Clifford Robinson, Tom Gugliotta, Anfernee "Penny" Hardaway, Stephon Marbury, Steve Nash, Quentin Richardson and Kurt Thomas acquired through trades or free agency.

In 1992-93 a new era began for the Suns as the team left Veterans Memorial Coliseum for America West Arena (now US Airways Center), a state-of-the-art 18,422-seat venue. The building was the first facility to include a practice court with the main arena. That season the team celebrated with the league's best record and advanced to the NBA Finals.

Off the court the organization has excelled with a relationship with the community that is second to none. The Suns established Phoenix Suns Charities, which, since its inception in 1987, has donated more than $5 million to benefit children's charities, education and family programs. In addition, Suns players, alumni and front office staff regularly support youth and community relations programs throughout the Valley of the Sun.

MERCURY MEDIA GUIDELINES

The Phoenix Mercury appreciate the fair and accurate coverage displayed by local, regional and national media. The Mercury Basketball Communications department is here to serve and will accommodate your needs and quickly and thoroughly as possibly. With your cooperation, we look forward to a successful tenth anniversary season in the WNBA.

CREDENTIALS

Media seating at US Airways Center press row is restricted to accredited working media representatives. "Working" media are those who are assigned by their station, publication or media service to file a report on that game. Members of the media with WNBA passes are asked to contact the Mercury communications department to ensure seating and appropriate accommodations when covering a WNBA game inside US Airways Center. International requests must be approved by the WNBA public relations office.

Media credentials will be issued by the Mercury communications department and will be made available prior to the start of the WNBA season for those media who regularly cover the Mercury. Passes are non-transferrable. For media covering the Mercury on a periodic basis, the team does provide a limited number of single-game credentials on a first-come, first-served basis. Single game media passes will be distributed before the game at the press entrance, located in the northeast corner of US Airways Center.

Requests for credentials must be made to the Mercury communications department before noon the day before a weeknight game and by 4:00 p.m. on Friday for a Saturday or Sunday game. If a request is not made, there is no guarantee a seat will be available.

PRESS ENTRANCE

US Airways Center has a designated press entrance located in the northeast corner of the building. All members of the media who are picking up credentials and have been issued a parking pass must enter through the press entrance.

PRESS PARKING

US Airways Center has limited press parking in the Jefferson Street Garage, located on the corner of Jefferson and 3rd Streets, and the US Airways Center Garage, located on the east side of the arena on 1st Street. You must be on the parking list and receive approval from the Mercury communications department to park in the media lot.

PRESS SEATING

The majority of press seating is located courtside between the team benches. Additional press seating can be found in sections 101, 102 and 103. Radio and TV broadcasters will be seated at the courtside level for all games.

TELEVISION CAMERA LOCATIONS

Television camera locations are available in approximately 16 different areas in the building. For more information, contact Dan Siekmann at (602) 379-7673.

INTERVIEWS

PRACTICES

Mercury practices are open to the media for the last 30 minutes. Players can be made available for interviews prior to practice by contacting the Mercury communications department at (602) 514-8344. It is advisable to check with the Mercury communications department for ALL practice times and locations. Media are not allowed on the court during practice, nor are the media allowed to talk with players or coaches during a practice. Team meetings are closed to the media.

GAMES

Mercury players and coaches will arrive at US Airways Center no later than one and one-half hours before game time. Media may interview players and coaches according to WNBA guidelines, from 4:30 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. for a 6:00 game and from 5:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. for a 7:00 p.m. game. The Mercury locker room will be closed for a maximum of 10 minutes following a game. Assistance will be provided in arranging interviews for visiting players and coaches. Please provide specific interview requests to Vince Kozar prior to the conclusion of the game.

WORKING AREAS

Phones and working space for the media will be provided in the US Airways Center Press Room prior to, during and following all Mercury games. Workspace is also available during games on press row and electrical outlets are available throughout press row. The Phoenix Mercury also offer wireless internet access in the press room and courtside. Please ask the Mercury communications department for access passwords.

Any questions regarding Mercury media credentials and guidelines should be directed to Vince Kozar at (602) 514-8344.

WNBA FAXBACK SYSTEM

Media members who cover the WNBA can access game notes, statistics, rosters, schedules and the most recent box scores for all WNBA teams, as well as league-wide statistics and other general league information, via the WNBA FaxBack system.

The WNBA FaxBack system is a 24-hour fax-on-demand system that is available in three languages and is easily accessible to media members who dial in from the handset of their fax machine. The only charge is the price of the phone call.
